REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To The Citizens of Wayland:

Your Committee submits herewith its report and that of the Superintendent, the School Physician and the Principal of the High School.

The most serious problem for this school, and for every public school during the past year, has been to secure and retain teachers with the right qualifications. By substantially increasing salaries the Committee has been reasonably successful in meeting the situation.

Another factor that has helped solve the problem has been the establishment in Wayland Center of a boarding house for the teachers at which board and lodging could be obtained at as near cost as possible. The need for such a place became apparent last spring when several teachers were being deterred from coming to the school because of the difficulty of finding a suitable or indeed any place at all to live. The Bennett house in the center of Wayland village seemed best adapted to the purpose because of its location and the fact that it could be rented partly furnished. It was accordingly rented by private individuals who also furnished the coal needed for the year. The necessary furniture beyond that which came with the house was provided by the kindness of Mrs. H. C. Wells. A housekeeper has been engaged with the expectation that her salary and the running expenses, apart from the rent and fuel, will be taken care of by the board paid. It is hoped that this home for the teachers may be placed upon a permanent basis, as it is of great value not only in attracting teachers to Wayland, but in making them more contented when here and thus indirectly increasing their efficiency in the school room.

Again it is necessary to emphasize the need of liberality in the matter of salaries. Fewer and fewer persons are entering the teaching profession, and of those already in it many are leaving to take up other lines of work offering higher compensation. During the past year the enrollment in normal schools in the United States has been approximately only one third of what it was four years ago, and last year alone out of 650,000 teachers, 143,000 left the profession. It is only the towns that are willing to face this situation and pay what good teaching is worth, which are going to keep or get the kind of teachers worthy of the difficult and responsible task entrusted to them.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee of the Town of Wayland, Gentlemen:

The twenty-third Annual Report of the Superintendent of Schools is respectfully submitted. It is my tenth report.

Out of the intensive recent studies men have made of our educational institutions and our future national and individual educational needs there are two proclamations by noted educators from which quotations have been taken and used in this report. Certain ideals and principles involved in the college training of young men and young women are very potently stated. These ideals and principles are embodied in both the elementary and secondary school work in but a slightly less degree.

From an article in the October World's Work by Pres. A. Lawrence Lowell, Harvard University, the following quotations are taken:

"Education in a democracy may be regarded from two points of view: the welfare of the community as a whole, and the welfare of the individuals of whom it is composed. These two ought in the main to coincide, and must do so if the hopes of democracy are to be realized. It is not difficult to show that this is the case in respect to education. The welfare of the community requires the best equipped men that it can procure: men who will place at its disposal in the largest measure the resources of nature, or the arts, of the manifold benefits acquired by the slow progress of civilization; men whose minds are trained to see clearly and think straight; men of wide knowledge and interests, with a broad and kindly outlook upon life and its problems.

"Without academic instruction these qualities may be derived in part from natural capacity, and they may be cultivated by contact with men and affairs; but systematic education is able to produce them more rapidly and effectively, and if it does not do so has failed of its end.

"The welfare of the individual boy or girl lies in the same direction. It can be attained completely only by a full developement of their natural faculties; and since these vary greatly in different children, and all of them ought to have an opportunity to make the utmost of themselves, the means of education must not be uniform. The dull ought not to be neglected for the more capable, nor the more gifted held back for the slower progress of others.

"The college should aim to promote intellectual persistence, moral character, and a sense of responsibility both for the sake of the student's own growth and for the benefit of the community about him.

"The experience of the war has shown that college men possess a resourcefulness which has enabled them to serve effectively in military and civil positions wholly different from the life to which they have been accustomed. This is the time to raise the level of undergraduate achievement and to make college life as serious and stimulating as it should and can be made."

It is within the bounds of conservatism to say that never before has an academic education been considered of greater value than today. As we review the past we may do so with complacency and satisfaction not alone in the things the collage has done for men and women but in the excellent foundation laid for college work by the secondary and elementary schools, both public and private. In our retrospection we must be mindful of that vast number of men and women who have not taken full academic courses because of circumstances beyond their control or because of natural ability and tendencies drawing them into other lines of business who have learned to do the world's great work at the bench and in the shop and on the farm. The elementary school has given them the beginnings of an education and they have obtained the remainder of their training through contact with men and affairs, in trade schools, vocational schools, evening schools, through correspondence schools, and the floods of literature in every community library and home. Thus has education been taking on a new significance the while we have been working academically.

To-day we need to examine critically our school work to see wherein we are falling short of the great demands made upon us and the greater ones that the future will inevitably bring to the public schools. Are the plans for the future broad and big and benevolent? In what things have we failed in the past? How far short are we in the accomplishment of those things we have earnestly sought to do?

We have failed in a great measure to do the work of Americanizing all those who have come to our shores from foreign lands. We have said "Come." They have come. And then we have left them alone to dream and to long for the land afar; to magnify its joys and to minimize its sorrows and to magnify their disappointment in the land of promise if theirs has been the lot of exploitation of human energy. This great work so long delinquent as to our adult foreign citizenship is for the future educational leaders and workers to perfect. The past with its errors of thoughtlessness lies behind us; the pregnant future with its hope and possibility is all before us. Already Massachusetts is leading in this work with a Department of Americanization busily engaged in the prosecution of this vital project.

Not only have we failed to Americanize all those who have come to us from other countries but we have failed to Americanize all of our own natural born citizens. Special privileges and semi class legislation have been part of our free governmental institution so that some have been oppressed and others depressed at the partial failure of the doctrine of equal rights. The Americanization movement recognizes not alone the foreign born who do not know and understand and appreciate the ideal democracy but reaches out to our own who have failed to comprehend the ideal and so have helped to make the real democracy fall short of the ideal.

Let me repeat a few words of Dr. Lowell, "The college should aim to promote intellectual persistence, moral character, and a sense of responsibility for the sake of the student's own growth and for the benefit of the community about him."

This should be the aim of the secondary and elementary schools and the home. The home should demand that the schools give the instruction that will develop these traits; the home should demand of itself training that will lay the foundation for such school training. The easier path is the road of indulgence, a course of procedure which does not develop either muscular or intellectual fibre. Intellectual and manual skill come only through self sacrifice. Our minds and bodies must know the weariness of toil to know the joy of accomplishment. Skill of hands and keenness of mind come not in capsules neither are they passed to us on a serving tray nicely wrapped in oiled paper.

The strong teacher is a kind but hard task master. The powerful school is the joyful but stern institution whose doors say to all, "Those who enter here must leave strengthened through their own personal effort. The golden touch of influence is here; the tools for labor are here; directors and directions are here; the sunlight of centuries of human achievement are here; but the individual must bring with him personal determination and a desire to master himself."

Have not schools and homes been lacking in some measure in these important characteristics?

Our examination of the schools of the past and in great measure of those of to-day proves to us that we have sought and are still seeking to make men and women intellectually perfect but have neglected the developement of the perfect physique. The future school must attend to physical development as well as intellectual growth.

The value of healthy vigorous dynamic bodies is appreciated as never before. A health campaign is launched through visiting nurses, dental clinics, school physicians, and a State Director of Physical Education. Dietetic courses are offered in all household departments. The purpose? That disease may be prevented through the natural resistance of the body. That your home and my home may be safe from infection because all the homes of the community are occupied by people intelligent as to the laws of health and vigorous as to the resisting disease germs. The purpose? That in the end a citizenship may be produced in the coming generations that shall possess nerve, brain, and muscle of such vigor and tenacity that the maximum of skill and endurance shall prevail quite generally.

Then shall there be joy in living and delving to make our national and home life like unto the dreams of our national forbears.

Dr. Lowell mentions in the section of his article quoted in this report that children vary greatly in their natural faculties; that all should have the opportunity to make the utmost of themselves; that the dull should not be neglected or the more gifted held back.

Teachers realize keenly the great differences in children even in the same home as to intellectual power, physical condition, and natural tendencies, likes and dislikes, disposition. We also realize great differences in children from different homes in the experiences of life. The method of handling children at home in the matter of discipline and control, habit forming instruction, and all that goes to make for strength of character varies greatly in homes. So that children come to the school equipped most variedly at the same age. We realize that no system of instruction fits all children. A system of reading closely adhered to may make one child an excellent reader and another child a dullard.

So I face the "dull child" phrase skittishly and as I peer to make out what it means I behold a phantom shape take form and I see the several hundreds of occupations open to men and women whereby to make a living and to gain the joy and satisfaction of having contributed their share to the world's production for man, his wants and his entertainment. The occupations of man are varied. Man in his tendencies and desires to do that work is a wonderful being of likes and dislikes. Are there any dull children, dull young men, and young women? If so shall we classify them as mental defectives or as beings who if given their opportunity in the educational world will know how to do some kinds of work far better than many who are rated more intellectual.

Does not an examination of our educational system show that it is cut too much after the pattern that fits for doctors and lawyers and accountants, intellectual workers? Are we not giving too much emphasis that an education means less toil for the worker? How many of our students are told effectively that behind the bank counter, within the walls of university buildings, the most exhausting of toil goes on?

If the future of our educational system is to yield equal opportunity for all then it must provide training for all vocations so that every boy and every girl may find himself or herself and thereby attain the goal of self perfection as a world worker and resident. This will mean greater expenditure for education through the extension of all forms of trade and manufacturing educational institutions. An age of skilled workers calls for the production of skilled workers in the shortest time. The cost in time and non production makes the shortest route desirable.

Much as we may laud our educational institutions and much as we may dream of extending them in other directions than heretofore we have with us most vividly the great cost of maintaining schools. Sometimes it seems as if the cost is far too great. But when we take any financial statement exemplifying the cost of a school system for a year or term of years and examine it we find that a very large percentage of the outlay is for labor, not the indirect labor of producing coal and books but the direct toil of men and women in the schools with the children and young people, toil for their comfort in small part, mostly in the work of instructing. Since this is the fact it is evident that the very large increase in the cost of education the past few years is due almost entirely to the increase in wages all over the country in all lines of human endeavor. A noticeable difference is that the pay of the educators has not changed much until quite recently while that of most other labor rose very sharply early in the epoch that has wrought such great changes throughout the world. Study of this problem reveals the reason for the very marked increase in teachers' salaries reported in papers the past few weeks in so many cities and towns. Study of the wage problem relatively also shows most clearly the reason for the teacher shortage that is indeed a question of no little concern at this time. And we also see the reason for the falling off in numbers entering training for the great art of dealing with our young people.

There is indeed a shortage of teachers of serious moment. State Superintendent Thomas of Maine reports 80 schools in that State closed on account of the teacher shortage. He also estimates that unless something drastic is done at the coming town and city annual meetings that there will be a demand for 500 teachers another fall that cannot be filled. His complete report is well worth our careful study as it deals with the subject from several angles that have an important bearing on the future of all things. New Jersey is reported as seeking 1000 teachers. About one fourth of the teachers in the United States left the work during the last four years and the percentage of those fitting in Normal School to graduate during the past four years in the United States is 30 per cent below normal. Recent figures given me at the State House show that our Massachusetts Normal Schools graduated 14.6 per cent fewer girls in 1918 than in 1917, 30 per cent fewer in 1919 than in 1917, and it is estimated that the number to graduate in 1920 will be 33 per cent less than in 1917. All who graduate do not enter the school room. There is no question about the shortage of teachers and there is a prospect of a still greater shortage unless living expenses are greatly lessened, or other lines of business stop offering such good wages to workmen, or unless a very great advance in the salaries is generally made. It is all but impossible to predict where the high water mark will be.

The serious consequences of an impaired supply of teachers, depleted by resignations, and lessened by lack of new material, lowering of the standard of instruction, is clear in the case of the teachers, but it is clearer in the case for the children. If one teacher is worried over meeting her expenses, or disheartened and dissatisfied because many of her acquaintances in other lines with less training and fewer years of service are getting much higher wages and are free from the shrivelling criticism many a teacher worker has to endure, the children in her room are suffering the loss of much valuable inspirational service as well as much loss of time. When factory workers are discontented their efficiency is diminished. Discontent among brain workers is absolutely deadening.

Your recent action in regard to the wages of our teachers seems to be fairly just and satisfactory to the needs for the present. I am confident that the teachers are quite generally satisfied with current salaries and that they have settled down for a term of happy vigorous work. In the case of vacancies we should now be able to seek teachers of the type Wayland will honor and approve. The future outlook is very uncertain and can only be met as developments point the way.

Dr. Sylvester's work in the schools is worthy of special attention and his report should be carefully read. Outside of the work and influence of Dr. Sylvester the work of giving instruction as to health and physical development consists of a few simple exercises of the calisthenic type and health talks in connection with physiology and hygiene. Several towns employ a visiting nurse who is able to supplement the work of the school physician, advise with the teacher, and follow up the advice of the school physician by visiting parents and explaining to them the needs of dental and other corrective assistance toward development into strong men and women physically. Dental clinics have been established and are proving of great worth in the care of the teeth and have lessened the expense greatly. The health and physical development subject is worth of most careful consideration.

Wayland should also consider the re-establishment of the shop and sewing lessons and should consider most carefully the value of establishing and maintaining courses in household arts.

In these times of high prices and the very high cost of education as compared to the past, cities and towns will of necessity examine more closely all the work of the schools in an endeavor to ascertain wherein the cost may be lessened or at least a slowing up of the ever increasing cost of education. The State Board of Education is studying the problem and may have in the future some recommendations worthy of study and adaptation

Already certain changes have been made in laws giving more freedom to the State Board of Education in determining methods of handling the high school problem in small towns. This is a topic that will be before many small towns in the State the next year or so and it should be studied exhaustively.

It is fitting that Wayland should make a thorough investigation of her high school situation, the means for providing for the educating of her young people beyond the grades in other communities, and thus give the high school question a thorough overhauling that our high school may either have better and more whole hearted support in the community whether we hold all the children in town or whether some are sent out of town by individuals. It is not a simple question. The advantages and disadvantages need to be weighed carefully as to the education of our young people; the financial and transportation issues will come in for close and thorough study; the length of time the out of town schools may likely be able to receive outside children.

The town of Sudbury is studying this question. The State now permits towns to unite in a union high school under the direction of a joint committee. Wayland and Sudbury may do well to consider together the proposition of a union high school.

This question should not be settled hastily. A full and thorough investigation should be made so that the facts may be fully compiled, analyzed, and the matter brought before the town in a clear and unbiased light. That which is best for the education of our young people should be done. There are advantages and disadvantages in both methods of procedure. They should be weighed carefully and the decision should be made for the interest of the boys and girls.

I wish to thank the members of the School Committee for their personal interest in the welfare of the teachers. A corps of teachers happy in the school room, comfortable and content at home, is one great step toward patient and vigorous work with the children. I am sure that the teachers appreciate this thoughtfulness and that they are giving the best of themselves to the service of the schools.

Respectfully submitted,

F. H. BENEDICT

REPORT OF HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

*Mr. Frank H. Benedict,
Superintendent of Schools
Wayland, Mass.*

Dear Mr. Benedict:

I herewith submit to you my second report as Principal of the Wayland High School.

The total number of students attending the school since September 8, 1919 is 55. The present enrollment is 50, of which 28 are girls and 27 boys. The four classes are represented as follows: Freshmen 24, Sophomores 13, Juniors 11 and Seniors 7. The 50 students now attending are distributed to the courses offered as follows: College Course 17, Science Course 5, and Commercial Course 28.

The organization of the school is much the same as last year. There have been changes in the teaching corps but the number of teachers has remained the same and the work outlined in the course of study is being given. Miss MacMillan, instructor in English is the only full time teacher remaining from last year's corps. Miss Boland is with us for Music once a week as last year. The new teachers are Miss Decatur who has the work in Latin and French; Miss Canniffe, who has charge of the Commercial work; and Miss Hosmer, who comes Tuesdays to give instruction in Drawing and Art Metal work.

Having car service between Wayland and Cochrasset has improved the school schedule, for we no longer have to excuse students early to go home on the barges. The car service has made it possible for students to obtain help after regular school hours, and has given the boys an opportunity to get together for athletic work. Several games of football have been played and quite a bit of spirit aroused. The boys are looking forward to next season to demonstrate that Wayland High has a team worth while. Steps have been taken to develop a hockey team in the near future and to arrange for base ball for May and June.

We have given up holding the "Athletic Association" meetings and in place of them are giving a few dances. Already two dances have been given by the school. The first was given by the Junior Class Nov. 21, 1919 at the Town Hall. The second was given by the Senior Class Dec. 12, 1919, at the Grange Hall, Cochrane. These were both very pleasant parties.

A part of the money given by the class of 1919 has already been spent for reference books, and the remainder will be used when we find the right books. Having acquired these books I find that the school is in need of some new book cases and a small table. I would suggest that these be obtained in the near future so as to make the books of immediate service to the students.

We are to use the "Literary Digest" this year in connection with the history work during the last part of the year. This was done last year with much success. It seems to me that while this may be enough time to give to an intensive study that we ought to have magazines on our table through the entire school year. I wish to recommend that a fund be set aside to purchase such periodicals.

The school is badly in need of science equipment but I shall speak of only two points of weakness. It is difficult to do work involving heat because one cannot get heat in sufficient quantity from our small alcohol lamps. If something better cannot be found, of course there is little need for apparatus along the line of heat. I have thought that cylinders of compressed gas might be obtained and used to supply our laboratory needs. In electricity the school is equipped for very simple work. We should begin to plan for work using commercial direct and alternating currents. The original expense for such equipment is quite large but the work is worth while.

In the past courses have been given in manual training and domestic science. It seems to me that these subjects should be given a place in our course of study again. They bring quite an expense to the community it is true. To one not in school work this expense seems entirely out of proportion to the benefit derived, but people in close touch with educational work believe that students obtain much that is worth while from these courses.

At intervals of six weeks a report showing the student's standings is sent home for inspection and four weeks later a letter is sent, if the student's work has fallen below a passing grade. It is a rare occurrence to hear from the home in case a student is doing poor work. I think it would aid much if parents would take enough interest in the student's work to communicate with me and in some cases have a personal interview. Whenever a student is absent from a class much of the value of the work being covered is lost. Made up work is never covered so well as that done in the regular class. Because of the loss whenever a student is absent, parents and guardians should be unwilling to permit a student's absence from school except for sickness of the student or some member of the family.

Respectfully submitted,

DAVID J. ALLEN

REPORT OF SCHOOL PHYSICIAN

Frank H. Benedict,

Superintendent of Wayland Schools;

Sir:

I herewith have the honor to hand you my report as School Physician for 1919.

I have reason to congratulate the inhabitants of Wayland that their children are so well cared for in the schools by all who have anything to do with their instruction and well being in their school life.

As I examine them year after year I notice a steady improvement in their physical condition. I am glad to notice an increasing tendency for parents to care for the teeth of their little children. There is at present room for improvement in some of the children. However, I expect in the future that children having perfect teeth will be as usual as the reverse to-day.

I have found all the school buildings in the town well cared for by the janitors. Especially do I notice the complete absence of the characteristic school room odor that is found in many schools where the ventilation is not so well cared for.

I regard the teachers as models in every way. I am always glad to visit the schools because I see so much to admire in the methods of teaching today. My examinations have been much facilitated by the efficient aid of the Superintendent who seems to have the schools well in hand.

I have examined every school child in town. I am glad to report that very little real disease is present among them. A few children are not properly nourished, sometimes on account of diseased teeth and tonsils.

By "defective" in most cases is meant that the teeth or tonsils are diseased. By "perfect" is meant that the teeth are not diseased or made in good condition by dental art. The apparent number of defectives is increased because I mark every child defective having even one diseased tooth. In the records I have kept will be seen that one bad tooth this year will mean two or three next, and so on during their school life.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARY TRUSTEES

The Annual Report of the Librarian to the Trustees, and the list of titles of books added to the library in the past year, are herewith submitted.

The Librarian's report shows that 22,434 volumes were taken from the library during the year. This is the largest circulation recorded. The figures are gratifying, but the fact that of these, 73 per cent are classified as "Fiction" and read for entertainment somewhat modifies the satisfaction. Our library is rich in books of Art, Literature, History, Biography and other sources of information, the per centage of which, as read, are not in proportion. With our fine collection of books of reference available in the reading rooms, it would seem that the children might extend their school work here to advantage. In this town, before the Public Library was formed, each of the school houses of the then existing "Districts" had its small school library. Upon the opening of the Town Library, these school libraries were all merged into it, and it was expected that the children would eagerly avail themselves of the increased opportunities and resources of the larger library. This, as regards the reading room of the main library, unusually attractive and adapted to its purpose as it is has never been satisfactorily realized. It is not not used as it might be. At the Cochituate reading room its advantages are better appreciated. This is a popular resort, and its resources are more fully utilized.

The Trustees would earnestly recommend that an independent water supply be installed in the main library. During the past year no water was available here for three months.

SELECTMEN'S REPORT

APPOINTMENTS

All regular appointments have been made as required by law. They appear in the list of Town Officers and Committees.

OILING ROADS

During the past year $11,262.30 has been expended for oiling. $5,100 of this Amount was allotted us by the State and County. This money was expended principally on Concord Road, Cochituate Road, Sudbury Road, Pond Street, Plain Street, Pemberton Road, Harrison Street and Shawmut Avenue. The oil was laid under the direction of the State Engineer.

RUSSELL BRIDGE

At a special Meeting held May 26, 1920 the Selectmen were appointed a Committee to confer with the Highway Commissioners relative to taking over Russell Bridge so-called. Your Committee had several conferences with the Highway Commissioners and as a result succeeded in having temporary repairs made, the State and County sharing equally in the expense. We consider that the Commissioner have been very liberal and that the bridge is safe for some time to come.

FARWELL HOUSE

The "Heard Property" so-called was sold at public auction, agreeable to a vote of the Town, to Thomas L. Hynes, the highest bidder.

The Wyman Gift was also purchased by the above party.

COCHITUATE ROAD

The Town voted the sum of $2500, the State and County each allotting a like amount, for the repair of Cochituate Road. It was deemed inadvisable to have this work this year inasmuch as the cost of material was prohibitive.

FIRE APPARATUS

Your Committee with cooperation of the Fire Engineers, purchased two Reo Chassis and equipped them with La France Chemical Apparatus. We believe this equipment has proven highly satisfactory. For Fincial Statement see report of Fire Engineer.

SUDBURY ROAD BRIDGE

When repairs were being made on State Road West, it was necessary to detour travel over Sudbury Road and as a consequence "Dry Bridge" so called collapsed. After several conferences with the County Engineers and owners of adjoining land it was deemed advisable to fill in this bridge, thus avoiding further trouble from this source.

PULMOTOR

The Selectmen recommend that two Pulmotors be purchased by the Town, one to be installed on each Fire Truck. In the past year we feel that lives could have been saved if the Town had this equipment.

TOWN LINES

The town lines between Sudbury, Framingham, and Natick have been perambulated and the bounds marked.

The Selectmen wish to express their appreciation for the hearty cooperation extended them by the Town Officers and Citizens.

CEMETERY COMMISSIONER'S REPORT

Since our last annual report the town has received as gifts two funds making a total of forty funds amounting to 4,750. income from which is for the perpetual care of individual lots.

The Commissioners urge as many as can to have their lots placed under perpetual care to assure the continued attractiveness of their, as well, as adjacent lots.

Owing to the high cost of labor and shorter hours of work the result in work accomplished is approximately less than half of what it was a few years ago; this is reflected in the neglected appearance of the cemeteries the latter part of the season, the appropriation having been expended. It would seem that the town might be a little more liberal in its appropriation for the care of cemeteries out of regard for the memory of those citizens who have passed on but bequeathed to us so much that we benefit by and enjoy.

A metallic fence erected on the northerly side of the North Cemetery is a great improvement. By a special arrangement the old iron posts set in foundation stones were utilized, thus saving quite a large expense. The unexpended balance of $135.00 from the appropriation of $500.00 for said fence your Commissioners would recommend placing to the credit of the General Cemetery Account to be available for use in replacing another section of the fence in the North Cemetery which is badly out of repair.

Appended is statement showing balances held by treasurer subject to order of the Cemetery Commissioners on Dec. 31st, 1920.

WATER COMMISSIONER'S REPORT

December 31, 1920

At the annual meeting held March 1st the Water Board organized as before, James C. McKay, chairman, and C. S. Williams, Clerk.

Walter S. Bigwood was reappointed Supt. of Works.

Application has been made for more services on Old Connecticut Path, the district near Dudley Pond to supply summer cottages.

The Commissioners think that they have taken on all that can be supplied in that locality with our present supply.

Application has also been made from the East side of Rice's Road but the elevation being so near that of the reservoir nothing can be done for those wishing to take water from our present supply on that road.

Investigation by the Water Committee has been going on the past year but the bills were not presented in time to go in the 1920 Report $500 being available in our cash balance to meet these bills.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
BOARD OF TRUSTEES
OF THE
WAYLAND TOWN LIBRARY

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1920

NATICK, MASS.

PRESS OF THE NATICK BULLETIN

REPORT OF THE LIBRARY TRUSTEES

The annual report of the Librarian to the Trustees is herewith submitted showing in statistical form, the year's activities.

The catalogue list of new books will be sent to the townspeople in a separate pamphlet, and is not included, as heretofore, in the Town Report. It is expected that this will be found more convenient for preservation and reference.

Acting under the vote passed at the last annual town meeting, by which $500. was appropriated for the purpose, an independent water supply, consisting of driven well, electric pump, and compression tank, has been installed in the library building. The former source of supply, the rail road tank, has been for some years very unreliable, no water for weeks at times, being available.

A meeting of the librarians of neighboring towns was held in our library on October 27. Thirty seven were present. Interesting papers were read and a collation served.

By permission of the trustees, a meeting of the Wayland Women's Club was held in the library January 18, Miss Wheeler acting as hostess. The capacity of the library was taxed to its limit to contain the large number present. Mr. J. Randolph Coolidge of Boston spoke on library work and read selections from various authors, following which tea was served.

The circulation of books for the year ending Jan. 1st, 1921, exceeded that of any previous year.

REPORT OF THE SCHOOL COMMITTEE

To the Citizens of Wayland:

The School Committee submits herewith its report for the past year. This is followed by reports of the Superintendent, the Principal of the High School and the School Physician.

The sum of $500 appropriated by the Town for the building of a concrete sidewalk for the Cochrane school has not yet been expended, as the Committee were unable to obtain any estimate for the work which was within the amount appropriated. It seemed best, therefore, to postpone further action until there should be a reduction in the cost of materials and labor.

There are a number of repairs and improvements which the Committee have kept putting off which should be attended to now. Among them is the painting of the outside of the Wayland School Building and the woodwork of the Cochrane building. To postpone this further will only add to the cost. An improvement, the need of which has been felt for some time, is the lighting of the Wayland school house, as on cloudy days the rooms are so dark as to interfere seriously with study and to endanger the children's eyesight. Electric fixtures have recently been installed in the Cochrane school, principally by the efforts of the school children who raised most of the necessary money, supplemented by private subscription. In the Wayland school it will be necessary to wire the building as well as to install the fixtures and consequently the cost is too great to be met in the same way.

During the past year a school lunch has been established in the Wayland school building enabling the pupils to obtain at cost a hot lunch. This was made possible by the efforts of a small committee of women who raised enough money to provide not only for the equipment and fitting up of a lunch room but for one half of the salary of a domestic science teacher. The school provided the other half of the salary and a teacher was engaged with the understanding that she should in addition to giving courses in domestic science to the pupils in Wayland and Cochituate, take charge of the lunch. At present approximately forty make use of the lunch daily.

A Parent Teachers Association in Wayland and in Cochituate has recently been organized, with a view to making more intimate the relationship between parents and teachers and arousing the interest of the community in the schools. The organization has already done much toward accomplishing these objects and it is no small satisfaction to the Committee to feel that the citizens are taking a more active interest in school matters. Such an interest can not fail to result in the improvement of the schools.

The house in Wayland center for the teachers is still in operation and except for the charges for rent and coal is on a self supporting basis. The cost of the coal is being met this year by the proceeds of a dance managed by Mrs. Stone and the rent is being paid by private individuals. At present there are six teachers living in the house. The skillful management of the house by Miss Allison has had much to do with putting it on a self supporting basis.

The salary question is still one of great importance. The salaries were increased during the past year to a minimum of $1000 in the grades and of $1200 in the High School. If we are to get and keep the right kind of teacher, the minimum salary should be raised to $1200 and $1400 respectively and a substantial maximum salary should be established, to be given by annual increases to all teachers who have done satisfactory work. Although there are a few teachers who out of loyalty to the school have remained with us many years at a salary little larger than that of a beginner, the majority do not feel able to resist the frequent calls to go elsewhere at higher salaries. The result is that the school is deprived of a teacher's services just as she is beginning to be of real value. The bad effect upon the school of these constant changes in the teaching staff and its resulting large proportion of teachers of little experience does not have to be enlarged upon. It is hoped that the suggested increases will result in the building up of a reasonably permanent teaching force of first class teachers, which is absolutely necessary if the schools are to give the children the kind of training and education to which they are entitled.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Committee of Wayland:

Gentlemen:

I herewith submit my annual report as Superintendent of Wayland Public Schools. This is the twenty-fourth in the series and the eleventh of the present Superintendent.

The fiscal year just closed presents some unusual features in school administration in Wayland which should be noted herein for the benefit of those in town who may not fully understand the conditions pertaining to expenditures and the needs of the coming year.

A year or so ago several women in the Center District interested themselves in the children of the Center School for the purpose of studying the needs there. The result of the study brought the serving of milk to children for a very small cost to each child, the weighing of the children twice for the purpose of studying the physical condition of all children. The cost of this work was met by using the funds returned to this District from the anti-tuberculosis subscriptions of the Center District. The study aroused the women thus interested in the health of our school children to make efforts to provide means whereby luncheons including something quite substantial and healthful might be possible daily. A project was also launched to procure means for the purpose of employing a visiting nurse.

The Wayland Center Branch of the Red Cross had funds on hand sufficient to employ a nurse for a year. The Chapter granted the request of the Branch to use the funds for the purpose, a Committee was appointed, residents of both villages, the Red Cross appointed Mrs. McNeil and the work is under way. The records of the School Committee show that the Red Cross through its Town Committee offered a portion of the Nurse's time for work in the schools and that the offer was accepted, the Nurse to work in the schools under the direction of the School Committee in the same manner as any other person employed by the Committee. As I understand the situation Mrs. McNeil's first duty is to attend to all emergency calls in town in so far as her time will permit; to journey from home to home where there is need of a nurse for a short time service, daily if need be and possible for her to do so; to minister to the community in every possible way permissible along lines of social welfare, morality, and health. Thereafter Mrs. McNeil will assist the School Physician and supplement his work by following up cases of children reported in his examination as out of condition. She will also give talks to the children on health, posture and so forth.

I have given a place for the foregoing paragraphs in this report because I have found some confusion existing in the minds of some in the community as to the situation pertaining to the employment of the Visiting Nurse and her duties. I trust it may be fully understood that Mrs. McNeil is subject to call to every home in the town if needed and desired. I hope we may all appreciate the fact that the work is new in this community, that doubtless some steps may be taken in connection with the work in the schools that will be misunderstood, that it will not be strange if Mrs. McNeil in her enthusiasm may err in her zealous efforts to launch health projects to which we must grow. So in placing this reference to work not entirely connected with the schools in my report I would plead for honest criticisms of a constructive nature and for indulgence for a short time that the real value of the service may be known and measured.

Impetigo has been very persistent in both schools this year and is not entirely eliminated at this time. We have been very particular the later weeks in the year to exclude every suspicious case. We have at times seemed over particular no doubt but the number of cases and the persistency of the affliction in cases seemed to warrant the position taken.

Another result of the study of the ladies of the Center District has brought to the schools the completion of the lunch room in the Center building. A sink has been installed with the necessary plumbing connections. An electric range has been given the School Department and much equipment for preparing and serving luncheons donated; also equipment for giving lessons in cookery. We should extend our appreciation of these gifts to those who gave and to those who labored for these ends. In behalf of the children I extend to the good citizens who have made these good things possible heartfelt and cordial gratitude. Visitors to the school will find much to make them thankful if the luncheon hour is observed. The children unconsciously speak for themselves. Plans are projected for making the luncheon serving even better than at present.

I refer you to Miss Allison's report for details regarding the cookery classes and the administration of the lunch room. The lunch room is self supporting, service and materials, and also pays for materials used in the cookery classes.

The current school year has seen the organization of a Parent-Teachers Association in the Center District. While anyone in town is eligible to membership in this Association holding meetings in the Center district it has seemed more feasible to those instrumental in founding the Association to make this particular Branch interest itself in the Center School, leaving the work of like character to be done by an association in the Cochituate District to the people of this District.

The Parent-Teachers Association should bring teachers and parents into close relationship which will permit the highest possible grade of study of school problems and yield a maximum understanding of school conditions, needs and possibilities. There are many methods and policies in vogue in different communities that give character to each particular school system, all cannot be employed in any one school system. The process of selection and adaption is a product of close study by the community and school officials.

In studying the administration of our schools it may be well to bring before the people again and again the fact that the geographical conditions of the two school districts is very different, hence the administration of school affairs must vary. The question of luncheon serving in the Center School will seem in all probability to people of the Cochituate District unnecessary. An examination of the facts shows that 76% of the Wayland grade children partake of their noon meal at the school and nearly all of the high school pupils are school diners. On the other hand there are only about 11% of the children in the Cochituate School who do not regularly go home for dinner. The school hours vary in the two schools, the sum total of hours schools are in session being the same in both instances. Then again conditions for the maintaining of a sub-primary grade in the Cochituate School are feasible and profitable to the children but entirely out of the question in the Center School. There are other differences but of minor importance.

It seems therefore a wise plan to have each school serve its particular community in the highest measure possible so long as there is proper balance as to cost and opportunities.

While the people of the Center District have been giving their School equipment for cookery and luncheons and have been giving also to the maintenance of the "Teacher's Lodge" the Cochituate people have been raising funds for placing fixtures for electric lights in their school. We hope later on to hold an evening session of school that the building may be open to the public for inspection while the schools are in session and the lights in use. In behalf of the Cochituate children I thank those who have given generously of funds and support to install the lighting fixtures.

The financing of the schools has been a most difficult problem the past five years as you, Gentlemen of the Committee, very well know from your study and struggles with costs, needs, wants, necessities, appropriations and balances. Last year we asked for $21,500. In view of the fact that about everything has doubled in cost during the past seven years in all lines of business it is reasonable to suppose that the school appropriations should advance at about the same rate. You have made note with regret in a way of the fact that there is an overdraft this last fiscal year of about $1200 if all bills had been settled. We should also make note of the fact that we had a balance last year of over $1000. These two items must appear in the grant this year as a regular charge. The present salary schedule if maintained will call for a further increase in the grant of $1600. Hence it seems that the appropriation for the fiscal year 1921 must be about $4000 over that of the grant for 1920.

The present salary schedule of teachers in Wayland is about that paid first year trained teachers in other municipalities. This means then that gradually Wayland will employ the first year girl keep her one or two years, and begin over again. Thus far we have escaped this for the reason that Wayland schools have been attractive on account of the good conditions prevailing in town for school work and the location of the town. It is without doubt within the province of a municipality to determine the type of teacher that is to be employed in its schools. Should Wayland decide to take year after year the beginner and train her there should be no criticism of school authorities for so doing. The appropriation determines the type of teacher in a large measure that the Committee man employ. In order to maintain a teaching force of the high type desired by many of our townspeople who have talked with me about the situation it will be necessary to make the minimum salary about $1200 and the maximum salary as high as may seem best to the people. This estimate is based upon comparative figures recently compiled by the State Board of Education in an exhaustive study of the teacher question. I trust you may find it within your province to lay this question before the town vigorously that a decision may be reached.

In view of the general lowering of prices and the business outlook the question may be raised as to there being some change in the shortage of teachers. I am advised by those who should know if it be possible to know anything of the future that there will be very little change in this respect for two or three years in the numbers entering the field of grammar work. Not until the salary question shall have attracted larger numbers into our normal schools and not until that number shall have completed the training may we hope to see conditions changed.

Some history student has said that it was more natural for the English American colonies to break away from the Mother Country than the colonies of other European nations, England having given her people greater freedom than had other nations of pre-Revolutionary War days. We need not discuss this here. There is an analogous situation in the school room however that is without doubt true. The American home has been giving, during the past few years, and is giving the children great freedom. School room problems are greatly changed thereby. The discipline of yesterday no longer works. The autocracy of school control is passed, especially in the upper grammar and high school grades. It is irksome to the students and ineffective. It is not appreciated by parents and rarely supported. There is a control however that is democratic and effective, it is the control of school activities akin to that of a well conducted business, emanating from a strong personality, a trained and efficient educator. To these types should the appeal be made for school teaching through the channels of a lucrative profession if the great institution of Democracy is to endure.

A college education is a costly affair in time and investment. Unless a young man or a young woman who must earn a living after college and perhaps pay back in part the cost of the training can see hope of meeting the expenses of that training and a comfortable living we cannot hope for strong types of men and women in our high schools.

The Center building needs as you well know outside painting, varnishing of woodwork inside, the replastering of ceiling in room one, one hood, repairs of fixtures to outside doors, several door checks, and minor other repairs. Many parents have realized for some years the need of lights in the inner rooms.

The Cochituate School has seen eleven years of service. Very little has been expended for upkeep during that time. The outside woodwork should be painted as a matter of strict economy and some work done in the basement, made necessary by the flood of last winter. We believe that the flood was caused by a stoppage in the drain that takes the water from our lot and surrounding lots, augmented by the unprecedented high water. We are watching with much anxiety, however, developments that shall determine what can be done to ensure the future against a repetition of last year's experience if the diagnosis is not correct.

The appropriation for making the Cochituate School grounds in keeping with the attractive building has not been expended. I trust that the town may see fit to allow this sum to be carried over to the credit of the Cochituate School for the purpose of the original grant.

In closing I find pleasure in commending the work of your teachers, janitors and transportation employees. The attitude of the boys and girls of the grades and of the young men and women in the high school is in general of high character. The home should consider more positively that school business is the real business of the student, never for a minute secondary, and should arrange for daily study at home for high school students and insist that it be done.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK H. BENEDICT

REPORT OF HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL

*Mr. Frank H. Benedict,
Superintendent of Schools,
Wayland, Mass.*

Dear Mr. Benedict:

I herewith submit to you my third report as Principal of the Wayland High School.

The total number of students attending the High School since Sept. 7 1920 is 59. The present enrollment is 53, of which 27 are girls and 26 boys. The four classes are represented as follows: Freshmen 13, Sophomores 16, Juniors 16, and Seniors 8. The 53 students now attending are distributed to the courses offered as follows: College Course 20, Science Course 5, and Commercial Course 28.

As in the past the class work is in the charge of four full time teachers. Miss Brennan is instructing in French and Latin; Miss Caniffe in the Commercial subjects; Miss Jerauld in English, History and German and I have the work in Science and Mathematics.

Miss Boland meets the students one period Mondays for chorus work. Miss Hosmer is with us Wednesday four periods for drawing. Miss Allison meets four classes of girls three periods each week for instruction in cooking. Besides instructing in cooking Miss Allison has charge of the lunch room and is furnishing the students a wholesome, warm lunch at a very reasonable price.

During the year the students have held a number of very pleasant dances at the Town Hall and at the Grange Hall in Cochrant. These have been enjoyed by the students and their friends. In the Spring we hope to have other dances. Since the close of the football season I have occasionally granted the request of the students for a social time at the school. After the dismissal of school for the day the boys have cleared the study hall and the room has been used for dancing and games for an hour or two. The students have enjoyed these times very much.

This year the boys have formed teams for base ball and foot ball. In base ball the boys worked hard but were hampered because there was no one to coach them and go with them on some of their trips. In the fall Mr. Robert Stearns took charge of the boys for foot ball work. They turned out well and worked hard. He developed a very good team from his small squad. The foot ball season was a very successful one from the stand point of the good the school received from this sport.

Steps are being taken now to arrange schedules for next year's games and there is some agitation about ice hockey and basket ball. For these sports the only obstacle is a place to play. Ice hockey would require a basin that could be easily flooded and it has been suggested to make such a basin on the play ground of the school. For basket ball a room of good size is required. Some day the school may have a gymnasium building and then winter athletic sports can be taken care of.

In closing I wish to point out that the Parent-Teacher organization that has been recently formed should receive the support of the parents of the high school students. It seems to me that many of the parents take too little interest in the school and the students. Many of the parents do not know the teachers, who are giving instruction to their children. I think the parents of our high school students should feel enough interest in their children to meet with the teachers occasionally to talk over school problems. The understanding that will result from these meetings cannot help having a good influence upon the work of the school.

REPORT OF COOKERY CLASS

Mr. Benedict, Supt. of Schools:

I herewith submit a report of the Cookery Classes and the School Lunches.

The classes in cookery are open to the High School, and the eighth grade of both schools. The number enrolled from the High School is seventeen, and an equal number from the eighth grades making a total of thirty four.

The time requirement for the High School is three periods a week, two of which are spent in practical work in the laboratory, the third is devoted to recitations and lectures; the work in the grades is confined to the laboratory period.

The course of study is arranged that the work shall be of practical rather than theoretical value. An effort is made to have the pupils become skilful in the preparation of a few dishes in preference to preparing once a large number of dishes. It is gratifying to hear reports of dishes prepared for the family because of the results obtained at classes.

The course will include instruction in the following:

Canned fruits and vegetables.

Jelly making.

Cooking fruits and vegetables for the table

White sauce: creamed dishes, cream soups, escalloped dishes.

Proper cooking of cereals.

Quick bread: examples; muffins, baking powder biscuits.

Raised breads.

Proper cooking of eggs, custard, baked, soft.

Cake.

Frosting.

The one hour periods have been spent on recitations and lectures on the nutritional requiremets of the body and the foods which meet them, also general information in regard to the production and preservation of foods, and the discussion of prices and computation of costs of recipes.

The pupils have assisted in the preparation of the lunches. The gradual increase in the number of children taking the lunch is quite gratifying in that it shows that the effort to supply a nourishing meal at minimum cost has been appreciated. At the beginning of the school year the menu consisted of sandwiches, cake, cocoa and milk. We are now serving in addition to the above one hot dish either a cream soup or a scalloped dish such as macroni and cheese. Candy and fruit have also been added, the candy being selected for its purity and food value. It is planned to serve other simple deserts in place of cake on some days.

The charge made is just enough to cover the cost of materials; the overhead expense has not been considered.

COST OF CAKE

2-3 c. butter	$.21
1 2-3 c. sugar	.082

TOMATO SOUP

1-6 lb. butter	.12
4 t. flour	.01
2 t. salt
14 servings	$.615
1 serving	.043
Sold for $.05.

Although the selling price so slightly exceeds the cost price the money obtained from the luncheons and the sale of candy has maintained the cookery classes; and equipment amounting to eleven dollars has recently been bought.

The short recess allowed at noon has made the problem of providing a suitable luncheon for the teachers a serious one which has been satisfactorily taken care of by the present method of providing luncheons for both teachers and pupils.

REPORT OF SCHOOL PHYSICIAN

To Frank H. Benedict, Superintendent of Schools of Wayland:

Herewith I have the honor to give you my report as School Physician for the year 1920.

The Schools were never in better condition, physically and mentally, than this year. This is due largely to the excellent organization by the superintendent and committee, and the exceptionally good work done by the teachers in carrying out this organization. In my examinations I have found the pupils improving year by year in every way. In many cases the parents have responded to the notices sent out by the school physician to take their children to the dentist or family physician. This year, particularly in Wayland, I have been surprised to see how many of the first graders show evidence of dental work, indicating that the advanced ideas of today on the treatment of the first teeth of children are gaining ground. I wish it was possible for all children to have the same care in regard to their teeth. Some of the grades still show a very undesirable lack of care in that respect. All can not, some will not attend to the first teeth of children.

Some of the grades in Cochrane have been quite broken up by the prevalence of whooping cough. Fortunately the epidemic has not been serious. There have been a number of cases of ringworm and impetigo, both highly contagious, that have interfered with the attendance, mostly in Cochrane.

The buildings are both in excellent condition, being unusually well cleaned and kept so. In all the visits I have made this year I have never found dirt, dust or odors. This shows faithful janitors, and perhaps watchfulness on the part of the Superintendent and teachers.

At the date of writing this Mrs. Mary McNeil is about starting in as a school nurse. She will aid the teachers and the school physician in watching over the health and well being of the pupils. I am expecting a good deal of aid from her in carrying out some parts of the school work that I have never been able to do. For instance; in many cases I send out disease or dental cards where I am sure the parents do not understand, or sometimes they do not read English. The nurse can enter these families and she may be able to explain our wishes so that the children will get results that we wish, but have never been able to obtain.

I have made examination as follows:

Wayland.

High School	54 pupils examined
Grades	105 pupils examined

Cochituate

Grade Schools	196 pupils examined
---------------	---------------------

Total number of pupils examined in the whole town 355.

In the whole town I have found 190 pupils who ought now to have dental treatment, or they should have had it in years back. The children are quite free from many of the defects found in larger places. I have found a number of cases of adenoids and diseased tonsils. On the whole, however, I consider the children above the average in physical condition.
